Re: USA v. City, Civil Action No.: 07 CV 2067 (NGG)(RLM)
Law Dept. No.: 2007-01744

Dear Judge Garaufis:

I write on behalf of all the parties to request the Court's approval to amend the Notice of Exam for Exam 2000 to specify that the physical component of the exam will be comprised of the Candidate Physical Ability Test (CPAT) developed by the International Association of Firefighters (IAFF).

The Notice of Exam normally provides a description of the physical exam. However, because the parties decided to carefully review whether the physical abilities test should be studied, the prior Notices of Exam did not provide specifics. Those prior notices stated only: "The physical ability test consists of a series of events designed to assess the ability to perform the physical aspects of the job of a Firefighter. A more detailed description of the physical ability test will be distributed to candidates before they are scheduled for the physical ability test." Now, after careful consideration, the parties' testing experts agree that Exam 2000 may proceed without a separate validity study of the physical abilities test. All the parties and Special Master White agreed with the experts' recommendation to use the CPAT.

The City proposed, and the other parties and Special Master agreed, to amend the paragraph in the Notice of Exam about the physical ability test to state,

Candidates who pass the computer-based test will be scheduled to take the physical ability test prior to admission to the Fire

Academy as vacancies occur. The physical ability test used will be the Candidate Physical Ability Test (CPAT), which is scored on a pass/fail basis. This test consists of a series of 8 events designed to assess the ability to perform the physical aspects of the job of a Firefighter. The test events are: stair climb, hose drag, equipment carry, ladder raise and extension, forcible entry, search, rescue, and ceiling breach and pull. A more detailed description of the physical test will be distributed to candidates before they are scheduled for the physical ability test, and is expected to be available for viewing by April 2, 2012 on the DCAS website at www.nyc.gov/html/dcas/html/employment/employ.shtml. You are encouraged to view this information.

A copy of the proposed Fourth Amended Notice is attached.

If the Court approves this amendment, applicants will be notified by an email stating that the Notice of Exam has been amended to specify that the CPAT will be used and providing a link to the Fourth Amended Notice of Exam on the DCAS website.

Respectfully submitted,
